

What Coverage Do I Need?

A Guide for Midwives in British Columbia

In addition to the MPP liability insurance, and in compliance with the Midwifery Preamble and Payment Schedule, each registered midwife in B.C. is required to carry Commercial General Liability (CGL) insurance. BMS, the MABC CGL Insurance broker, has created this resource to help midwives understand which insurance coverages they may need depending on their practice circumstances.

Enhance Your Coverage

Midwives who are not employees of a practice may have additional risk exposures beyond CGL. You should also consider:

- Cyber Security & Privacy Liability
- Business Professional Liability
- Employment Practices Liability

For more information, or if you have questions about the insurance solutions available to MABC members, contact a broker at BMS – we're here to help.
